

How healthy is our system in addressing sexual abuse of patients?

If you have been sexually abused by a regulated Ontario health professional, your voice and experiences matter.

The Ontario government appointed a Task Force on the Sexual Abuse of Patients to review the Regulated Health Professions Act (1991). METRAC is helping the Task Force connect with patient-survivors of sexual abuse by Ontario regulated health professionals (e.g. doctors, chiropractors, nurses).

Fill out the questionnaire and learn how to schedule an interview:

(Participation open until May 25, 2015)

Your stories and ideas will help the Task Force give advice and recommendations to the Ontario Minister of Health and Long-Term Care on how to strengthen the law on sexual abuse of patients.
